

ALEXANDER

BEFORE: Busser at Land's End Restaurant from June 2012 to March 2014
Georgetown, SC

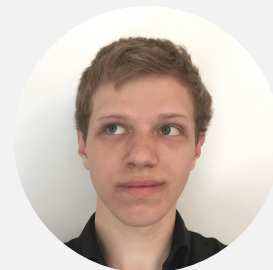

Busser, Server at Rice Paddy Restaurant from November 2013 to March 2014
Georgetown, SC

Busser, Food Runner at Chacon's Restaurant (formerly Land's End Restaurant) since August 2015
Georgetown, SC

EXPERIENCE: I'd first begun back when I was 14. I began with the basic front-end stack (HTML, CSS, JavaScript) then I had quickly begun to realise this is what I want to do professionally after embarking toward PHP and other programming languages like Objective-C and Swift. After dabbling in the iOS world I began to take web development more seriously. I began to make Rails applications after learning a bit of Ruby. From that point forward I've been interested primarily in back-end frameworks like Rails, Camping (which is my favourite Ruby based microframework), and Django. Currently my strongest back-end languages are Ruby, Python, Go, and PHP.

EDUCATION: Bachelor's in Web Design & Development at Full Sail University in Winter Park, FL by June 2016

WHO I AM: Apple aficionado, avid coffee drinker, dog lover, someone who spends most of his time on the Internet and desires big city life.

@Arcrammer

Much of my journey has been recorded at GitHub.
Go look at my programming style and tell me what you think!